ANNUAL CONSEQUENCE SYSTEM

Every scholar has two annual "Free Passes" to miss events without any justification or alternative/make-up event requirement.

We encourage scholars to save these two free passes/absences for general sick days (w/o doctor's excuse) or for important personal plans (like a weekend away, family holiday or celebration, etc.) instead of using them "just because" but they can be used at every scholar's own discretion.

Failure to attend a required event because of a true emergency or for a pre-approved reason from the list below will result in an event alternative to complete.

Scholars can pre-approve absences for the following reasons and receive alternative accommodations at no penalty:*

- Illness/surgery with documentation from doctor/hospital
- Direct academic class conflict (the actual class session is in conflict)
- Mandatory athletic conflict for student athletes (w/documentation)
- University conference attendance (representing University and/or paid for by University)
- Work conflict where the student has provided a written statement from their employer where the employer confirms the employee asked more than two weeks in advance for the time off and was denied the time off request by the employer

After using both "Free Passes", failure to attend a required event (not pre-approved or a true emergency) –or- failure to complete the alternative event by deadline will result in a Written Warning

Two written warnings will result in a termination notice (pending opportunity to appeal to the LEAD Scholars Advisory Board).

Inconvenience or preferring to do something else are not reasons for alternate accommodations.
